

AIR VOID FILL CUSHION

AIR Void Fill cushion is the perfect solution for wrapping products. The pad strand is separated on the perforation between each film section for the desired length. The smaller or greater the contours of the object are, the more flexible the form of the pad strand must be. Because of this we offer variations in the number of air chambers per film section and the product can also be used for void fill and blocking & bracing.